

GEORGIA

AFFILIATE AWARD

For the third year in a row, Georgia knocked it out of the park! They recognized 65 high school women for their outstanding achievements and aspirations in computing and technology. The event took place at the historic Academy of Medicine on the Georgia Tech campus in Atlanta, beginning with a reception and followed by an awards ceremony in which Award Winners received trophies, prizes, and notification of a generous scholarship opportunity to attend Columbus State University. The attendees, including Award recipients, their families, as well as corporate and academic representatives, were able to mingle and network at the reception while enjoying a lavish buffet provided by Georgia Tech. In true Southern style, the event was beautifully planned down to the last detail, and all of the Award recipients commented on how special the event made them feel.

“The event made me feel accepted and more excited that there are so many women interested in computers too.”
